

PELLER & BROCK
LONDON

Let $T \nabla u = c = \text{const}$ over $u = C$
then all through it

$$\iiint T^2 (\nabla u) \, dS = C \int \int \int$$
$$= C t S$$

$$\text{where } S = \int \int dS$$

Sent to Rufus.

11/11/70

Oct 31/70.

A Who is this ~~B~~ fat but quick?

The hound that crouched 'neath B's stick
What time the plunderers of the Dane
~~Quarrelled~~
Fell out about their shameful gain.

Keen, & fat and ~~that~~ ^{scanty} of wind

He juffs along the battle plain
For is not B's "stick" behind?

~~And~~ ^{Who's} dead to honor, ^{lives} to pain.
This is your G. ~~is~~ fat yet quick
Driven to war by B's stick.

What is this G's lawful prize?

Whatever finds favor in his eyes.

The ^{accused} ~~quarrel~~ one who hounds him on
Knows ~~his~~ ^{that} ~~all~~ ^{will} ~~his~~ ^{self respect} ~~is~~ ^{is} gone.

He fears his reckless discontent,
And so in devilish ~~wise~~ mood
~~delights~~ ^{lets} ~~his~~ ^{his} ~~all~~ ^{all} ~~humor~~ ^{find} a vent
Delighted ~~deeds~~ ⁱⁿ rapine, lust, and blood.

That is this ferman's lawful prize

Whatever finds favor in his eyes.

B What does his master hope to gain?

That does not seem so very plain.

To inscribe in each historic tome

As ~~the~~ ^{then} second rush of Goths to Rome?

Seeks he the immortality

Of him who fired Diana's shrine,

Or, with the ambition curd is he

~~To follow Caliph Omar's~~ ^{to follow Caliph Omar's} ~~name~~ ^{name to shine?}

What then does B. hope to gain?

I give it up - my ^{quest} ~~quest~~ is vain.

But what then will this G. gain?

The answer is both full & plain -

Contempt from every honest man

The thief's reward, the murderer's law,

When Europe's slow but sure police

Are set upon his bloody track

And all shall feel that ~~securing~~ ^{disturbing} peace

Requires he should be beaten back.

This will the rabid German gain
Fettered at length in Europe's chain.

C. But are not ~~you~~ ~~is~~ not civilized?

Is ^{justice} ~~justice~~ ~~not~~ among them ~~prized~~ ~~?~~
These ~~statements~~ ^{which} ~~have~~ long been long the assertion has been made

They are not easily gainsaid -
But yesterday ~~heard~~ ~~not~~
But he who ~~prometh~~ now may read
However unlikely ^{as} it may seem

Their first content, devoid of greed
Is ~~nothing~~ but an empty dream.

For Germans are not civilized
Say rather they are brutalized.

What should the wretched Fman feel,
Downtrodden by the G's heel?

Had that the veil at last is ^{drawn} ~~sent~~ aside
~~that~~ did so long the monster hide
Which ^{lust of blood & rapine} ~~lust of blood & rapine~~ ^{ripe} ~~ripe
That ~~was~~ ~~rapine~~ ~~lust~~ ~~of~~ ~~blood~~ ~~&~~ ~~rapine~~ ~~ripe~~ ~~ripe~~~~

Are plainly now ~~at~~ ~~last~~ revealed
Which ~~for~~ ~~secretly~~ ~~preparing~~ ~~strife~~
Are ~~which~~ ~~Tartuffe's~~ ~~fiety~~ ~~concealed~~.
Are by a but by ~~can't~~

This satisfaction he may feel
Though crushed ~~by~~ ~~that~~ ~~brutal~~ ~~heel~~.

D Say what shall be the wretches fate
Who finds this monster at his gate?

Dares he to act the part of man
And shoot the murderer if he can?

Dares she her honor to ~~defend~~ ^{maintain}

Whose face has pleased some ^{rich} ~~rich~~ ^{lord},
Or dare the starving peasant lend
His little stock, his winter's store?

The fallow is the wretches fate
~~Behold~~ ^{Behold} the monster at his gate.
~~He stands~~

Death and Dishonour, ^{(that is} ~~and~~ all.

In vain for mercy do ye call.

Hell is ^{abroad} ~~at~~ loose - her hounds obscene

Are loosed on every village green -

The fairest spots on ^{earth} ~~the~~ ^{that smil'd} ~~fair~~ earth

Are ^{soiled} ~~soiled~~ by the murderer's tread,
The Grey-beard, and the peaking child,
~~and men, and women, children too~~

Heighten the piles of dead.

Pity has fled, & right is wrong,
Nature aghast - Oh Lord how long?

E. But, Frenchman, though thou feel the curse,
Rejoice - thy foeman's case is worse.

~~When his vile swarms~~
When from his hordes thy land is free
Thou shalt enjoy thy liberty -

He, crushed beneath an iron hand,
With none from "stick" to save,
May yell in praise of Vaterland
But is not less a Slave!

Hurrah - each ~~mean~~ ^{mean} ~~skulking~~ ^{skulking} hound
In Bismark's leash is firmly bound.

All honor, Bismark, to thy stick
Which makes thy beery slaves so quick -

But act with caution - have a care -
~~Beware~~ ^{Appo dread} the vigor of Despair!

Even ~~the~~ ^{may at last} Germans ~~and~~ ^{may} feel shame
The "stick" so long to bear -

So ~~and~~ ^{and} play to ~~thee~~ ^{these} this pleasant game
For "turn about" is fair.

And Frenchmen will pronounce it "chic"
When Bismark's slaves give him the "stick".

B.A. address.

Metrical System (as well make French the Univ. Language)

Aids to Physical Science.

Especially as to teaching it.

Mariages par âges 15-25, 25-35, 40-

Les Accouchées par âges 15-20, 20-25, --

Nés vivants légitimes.

Décès par âges

Femmes mariées pour un né vivant
légitime

Rapports des naissances dans quelques autres pays

P. 16/8/70

W

PELLER & BROOK
LONDON

P. 16/8/70